"The scenic design serves as both a gathering place and a memorial, honoring the stories of the 'Plane People' and the communities forever changed by the events of September 11th. The adaptable environment shifts between New York and Newfoundland, while a central turntable evokes the fluid nature of memory, carrying us across time and place. Rooted in the warmth and resilience of Newfoundland, the design invites audiences to reflect on the enduring power of compassion, remembrance and shared humanity."

Ford's Theatre

Ford's Theatre explores the legacy of President Abraham Lincoln and celebrates the American experience through theatre and education. A working theatre, historical monument, culturally-significant museum and learning center, Ford's Theatre is the premier destination in Washington, D.C. to explore and celebrate Lincoln's ideals and leadership principles.

Ford's Theatre History

In 1861, theatre manager John T. Ford leased out the abandoned First Baptist Church on Tenth Street to create Ford's Theatre. Over the next few years, the venue became a popular stage for theatrical and musical productions. On April 14, 1865, Abraham Lincoln visited Ford's for a performance of Our American Cousin. At this performance, Lincoln was shot by John Wilkes Booth, a Confederate sympathizer and white supremacist. Lincoln died the next morning in the Petersen House, a boarding house located across the street. Ford's Theatre remained dark for more than 100 years, officially reopening in 1968 as a national historic site and working theatre. It is operated through a public-private partnership between the National Park Service and Ford's Theatre Society.

Ford's Theatre Today

Through its inspiring theatrical productions, live historic interpretation and engaging education programs, Ford's Theatre offers visitors the opportunity to immerse themselves in America's past while revealing meaningful connections to today.

As a working theatre, Ford's produces renowned plays, vibrant musicals and newly commissioned works that captivate and entertain while examining political and social issues related to Lincoln's legacy. With works from the Tony-nominated Come From Away and the nationally acclaimed Big River to the world premieres of Meet John Doe, The Heavens Are Hung In Black, Liberty Smith, Necessary Sacrifices, The Widow Lincoln, The Guard, Grace, Something Moving: A Meditation on Maynard and The American Five, Ford's Theatre is making its mark on the American theatre landscape. With the opening of the Frances and Craig Lindner Center for Culture and Leadership and the Aftermath Exhibits at the Center for Education and Leadership, Ford's Theatre has become a major center for learning, where people of all ages can examine Lincoln's multi-faceted legacy through exhibits, workshops and educational programs.

Welcome

In the spring of 2015, I received a call from a colleague at La Jolla Playhouse. She had just finished watching the final run-through of Come From Away, a new musical by Irene Sankoff and David Hein. While they were co-producing the world premiere with Seattle Repertory Theatre, the creative team believed that it was important to partner with an East Coast theatre prior to its Broadway run. When I saw the run in La Jolla a few weeks later, I could not have agreed more.

At Ford's, the audiences' response to the story of how the Gander community came together to care for the thousands of airline passengers re-routed during the September 11 attacks was immediate. Each performance of Come From Away carried a palpable feeling that the theme of community celebrated in the musical extended to our region. Equally beloved was the show's score. Inspired by traditional Celtic, Irish and the maritime folk music of Newfoundland, the score blends traditional music with contemporary rock and pop. By combining these elements, the musical told the story of 9/11 through the lens of a community that sprang into action to help others.

With its run at Ford's, Come From Away found its footing. The relationships made ten years ago with the Pentagon, the survivors of the Pentagon and their families and everyone who was affected by this tragedy proved invaluable to the development of the show. Our collaboration with the creatives and producers became one of the defining highlights in our production history. Come From Away became a huge hit on Broadway, and has had successful runs around the world, including on the West End. It received numerous theatrical accolades, including seven Tony nominations and a Tony Award for Christopher Ashley's direction.

Five years later, Ford's produced a concert of Come From Away on the steps of the Lincoln Memorial. Thousands of spectators joined us to commemorate the 20th anniversary of 9/11. That concert marked our first public performance back from the COVID-19 pandemic. Now, the show's theme of resilience in the face of adversity inspired our team to revisit it to honor the 25th anniversary.

This summer, exactly a decade after Ford's first-produced Come From Away, we began rehearsals with a company of local artists, under the direction of Ford's favorite Kevin S. McAllister. During the read-through with the cast on the first day of rehearsal, the emotions in that room were just as palpable as they were the first time we heard it over ten years ago. The musical's importance is undeniable. It clearly reminds us that we have the capacity to unite as a community to help those in need and to do so selflessly. Kindness is more in need now than ever before.

Don't miss our leadership programs that look back on how the events of September 11th have shaped who we are today. See page 29 for more details (www.fords.org) and I look forward to seeing you back at Ford's for A Christmas Carol.

Sincerely,

Paul R. Tetreault

COME FROM AWAY

The Story Behind the 2026 Commemorative Committee

It started with a conversation at intermission.

During the intermission of A Christmas Carol in December 2025, steadfast Ford's Theatre friends and advocates Anita and Tim McBride struck up a conversation with Ford's Theatre Director Paul R. Tetreault. The discussion quickly turned to next season's production of Come From Away—a production that resonated with Anita and Tim ever since its D.C. premiere in 2016, and one they were eager to see return to Ford's in 2026.

On September 11, 2001, Anita served as Special Assistant to the President for White House Management. As the attacks were unfolding Anita acted quickly to help evacuate White House staff to safety. Her first call was to Tim, an alumnus of the George H. W. Bush administration and the Director of Government Affairs at DaimlerChrysler, located just blocks from the White House. DaimlerChrysler opened its doors to more than 70 White House staff from speechwriters, schedulers, media relations and domestic and economic policy staff who continued to support the President, now navigating a country in crisis.

With this fall marking the 25th anniversary of September 11, 2001, Anita and Tim were compelled to help ensure that future generations understand not only the tragic events of September 11th, but also the extraordinary courage, compassion, call to service, and unity that emerged in its aftermath. In a day that forever changed our country and the world, it also revealed the very best of the human spirit.

Together, Anita, Tim and the Ford's team envisioned a group of dedicated leaders who would ensure this production of Come From Away was a lasting commemoration, honoring everyone who was affected and preserving the lessons for generations who did not experience it firsthand—the values of humanity, community and generosity embodied in Come From Away.

From that conversation, the Commemorative Committee was born.

Led by Honorary Chairs President George W. Bush and Mrs. Laura Bush and Committee Chairs Tim and Anita McBride, the Committee unites civic, business and philanthropic leaders around a shared commitment to remembrance, education and community. Through their extraordinary generosity, Committee members underwrite the educational and public programs surrounding this production, expanding its reach and ensuring its message extends far beyond the stage.

Ford's Theatre extends its deepest gratitude to every member of the Come From Away Commemorative Committee for making this important work possible. We are honored to recognize these remarkable individuals and organizations for their visionary leadership and generosity. Please see the accompanying insert for a complete listing of Committee members.

Together, they have helped ensure that the lessons of September 11th, and the enduring power of kindness, courage and shared humanity in the face of tragedy worldwide, will continue to inspire generations to come.

Dedication

Kent Knutson

We mourn the sudden passing of our dear friend and longtime board member, Kent Knutson. Kent was a passionate advocate for Ford's Theatre for over 15 years, first in the Board of Governors and later as a Trustee, opening doors to new partnerships and opportunities that strengthened our institution immeasurably. Kent, Karen and their children were a constant presence at performances and gatherings, embodying the vivacious spirit that defined his life. Kent's remarkable professional accomplishments, tireless commitment to nonprofit organizations like Ford's Theatre and ardent care for his family and friends have left a lasting mark on us all.

Come From Away was Kent's favorite production, and we dedicate this production to Kent's memory. Also established in his memory is the Kent Knutson Memorial Fund for Artists: an endowment fund that supports artistic excellence at Ford's and recognizes Kent's leadership in perpetuity. Ford's Theatre gratefully recognizes the following contributors to this fund, which has raised over $250,000 to date.

To learn more about Kent's history of service at Ford's Theatre, and about the Memorial Fund, please contact Director of Development, Sarah J. Wilber at swilber@fords.org.

Paul R. Tetreault

Director

Paul R. Tetreault has served as Director of Ford's Theatre Society since 2004, leading the historic Washington, D.C., institution through more than two decades of artistic growth, educational innovation and institutional expansion.

Under his leadership, Ford's has produced 10 world premieres—including The Guard, The Heavens Are Hung in Black, Necessary Sacrifices, The Widow Lincoln, The American Five—and presented the East Coast premiere of Come From Away prior to its Broadway success and Tony Award recognition. He has also championed the Ford's Theatre Legacy Commissions and A First Look, developing new works that illuminate lesser-known stories and pivotal moments in the American experience.

Tetreault has overseen major milestones in Ford's institutional history: including the 2009 reopening of the renovated theatre and museum, the 2012 opening of the Center for Education and Leadership and 2025 opening of the Frances and Craig

Lindner Center for Culture and Leadership, which expands Ford's capacity for education, artistic development, rehearsal, conversation and civic engagement across its campus.

His leadership has also helped advance Ford's mission to explore President Abraham Lincoln's legacy and its continuing relevance to American life. Through theatre, education, public programming and historical interpretation, Ford's seeks to cultivate empathy, encourage dialogue and connect audiences with the ongoing American story.

Ford's Theatre received the National Medal of Arts in 2008, the nation's highest honor for artistic institutions and artists.

Before joining Ford's, Tetreault served for 10 years as Managing Director of Houston's Alley Theatre, where he produced more than 100 productions and worked with artists including Edward Albee, Tony Kushner, Trevor Nunn, Nicky Silver, Frank Wildhorn and August Wilson. Earlier in his career, he held senior management positions with Crossroads Theatre Company in New Jersey, Berkeley Repertory Theatre in California and Circle Repertory Company in New York. He also served as Director of Finance at Madison Square Garden and as a vice president with C.W. Shaver and Company, a New York management and fundraising consulting firm.

Tetreault has served as a panelist for the National Endowment for the Arts and as a guest lecturer at Yale University, Columbia University, New York University, Brooklyn College, the University of Houston and Rice University. He is a graduate of Emerson College and received his MFA from Brooklyn College, City University of New York. He has also held leadership roles with arts and civic organizations, including the Downtown D.C. Business Improvement District.

Canada's Yellow Ribbon Operation and the Resulting Acts of Kindness

by José Carrasquillo, Director of Artistic Programming

It has been 25 years since the September 11th attacks. On that Tuesday morning, I recalled the sky having a vivid cobalt blue color that I had not seen before. There were no clouds and, as the sun rose, the color of the sky intensified. Air traffic controllers had given the day a “severe clear” designation. Michael McCormick, who oversaw all air traffic in the northeastern United States explained: “Severe clear is a colloquial term used by air traffic controllers to signify exceptionally clear skies with unlimited visibility. It’s a day with perfect flying conditions which makes for a great day for air traffic controllers.” What began as a perfect day, soon turned into an unimaginable nightmare—the single worst day in aviation history, ending in approximately 2,750 deaths.

Military operations began immediately after 8:46 a.m., when American Airlines Flight 11 crashed into the North Tower of the World Trade Center. A joint order from the Department of Defense and the FAA ordered all civilian flights to land at nearest airports. Flights coming to the U.S. from the European and Asian continents were made to turn around if they had covered less than half of their routes. But flights past the halfway mark were diverted to the north. Canada’s Yellow Ribbon Operation was put into effect at 9:45 a.m. to handle these diversions. Most of the 225 flights landed in Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and British Columbia. 38 of those planes landed at the Gander International Airport, the setting for Come From Away.

Gander, a community of less than 10,000 people, received nearly 7,000 of the affectionately termed “come from aways.” As a whole, Canada found itself with nearly 33,000 stranded passengers and crew members in need of food, housing, emotional support and other necessities for an indeterminate period. These communities responded to the daunting task with overwhelming support, turning a massive challenge into a shared effort. Neighbors stepped forward to offer resources and labor with the affected airports reporting thousands of calls a day from people wanting to help. The extraordinary outpour of support lasted until the last plane departed on September 16. Canada’s public efforts to help those affected were lauded around the world as an act of kindness. On 9/11’s first anniversary, Canada’s Prime Minister Jean Chrétien went to Gander where nearly 3,000 of the folks that had been stranded the year before returned to express their gratitude and reconnect with this exceptional community that took care of them. Chrétien said, “9/11 will live long in memory as a day of terror and grief. But thanks to the countless acts of kindness and compassion done for those stranded visitors here in Gander and right across Canada it will live forever in memory as a day of comfort and of healing.” He concluded his remarks by telling the residents of Gander, “You did yourselves proud, ladies and gentlemen, and you did Canada proud.”

Michael Rubinoff, a Toronto theatre producer and educator, long believed that what took place in Gander during 9/11 would make a compelling musical. Rubinoff approached the Canadian husband-and-wife writing team of Irene Sankoff and David Hein. Irene and David traveled to Gander to meet and interview residents. They also met with those who had been stranded. They discovered that Gander folks were extraordinary storytellers and used their real-life accounts as the backbone to the musical. Their stories and experiences during those days give the musical not only authenticity, but a sense of unity and compassion.

In addition to the musical Come From Away, Operation Yellow Ribbon has been dramatized and documented in other media forms including the CBC’s miniseries Diverted, the award-winning documentary You are Here and the Discovery Channel documentary series 9/11: Cleared for Chaos.

Education at Ford's Theatre

The Events and Stories That Shape Us

Every story reveals as much about its teller as it does about its subject. At Ford's Theatre, we're privileged to tell some of history's most powerful stories including the history and living legacy of Abraham Lincoln. Our education programs invite students to make personal connections to that history, think critically about the choices individuals and communities make and carry Lincoln's legacy forward into their own lives.

Field Trips

Historic site field trips give students the chance to explore Lincoln's assassination, its lasting impact on the nation and why his legacy still matters today. To make this experience accessible to all, Ford's Theatre offers free tickets to qualifying Washington, D.C. public and charter schools, as well as Title I schools in Maryland and Virginia.

Registration is open for both in-person and virtual field trips. Reserve your classroom's date and time today.

Come From Away Student Guide

Come From Away

Come From Away tells the true story of Gander, Newfoundland, the small town that suddenly welcomed nearly 7,000 stranded passengers after 38 planes were redirected there following the September 11th attacks. Built from hundreds of interviews with the people who lived through those events, the musical is a powerful example of oral history brought to life. Rather than simply retelling history, it honors lived experiences and reminds us that every person carries a story worth hearing. The show transforms a moment of crises into one of connection, compassion and hope. Even in the darkest times, stories have the power to bring people together, inspire change and remind us of our shared humanity.

Gander, New Foundland, Canada facts:

Population: Around 9,600–10,000 residents lived in Gander in 2001.

Nickname: Gander was once known as the "Crossroads of the World." Before long-range jets became common, nearly every transatlantic flight stopped there to refuel.

The Newfoundland phrase "come from away" refers to anyone who wasn't born there—a fitting title for a story about strangers becoming neighbors.

Documentary Theatre

Documentary theatre is a style of performance that transforms real events and lived experiences into theatrical storytelling. Using interviews, oral histories, letters, news articles and other primary sources, these productions invite audiences to connect with history through the voices of the people who lived it. Productions such as Come From Away, The Laramie Project and Fires in the Mirror show that there are many ways to tell true stories on stage. Some rely on music, others on verbatim interviews, movement or ensemble storytelling. As artists continue to experiment with new forms, documentary theatre reminds us that there is no single way to bring history to life—every creative choice shapes how a story is experienced and understood.

Test Your Knowledge!

Why was Gander chosen as a landing site for so many airplanes on September 11th?

- A It was Canada's largest airport.
- B It had some of the longest runways in North America.
- C It was closest to New York City.
- D It was a military-only airport.

B. It had some of the longest runways in North America.

It's your turn to become a documentary theatre artist!

Every great documentary play begins with someone asking questions and listening to another person's story. With a partner, think of a recent event that has made an impact on your school, community, family or the world. It could be something as historic as the Artemis missions, or simply a memorable event at your school or your neighborhood. Interview your partner using the questions below and note their responses. Document the details, emotions and moments that stand out, those are the building blocks of great theatre.

What recent event did you choose and what do you remember most about that day?

What sights, sounds or emotions stand out when you think back to that day?

How did this experience change you?

If this memory had a title, what would it be? Why?

Now, bring your interview to life through a monologue. A monologue is a speech performed by one character that shares their thoughts, feelings or experiences with an audience. Choose the moment from the interview that stood out to you the most. Then, using the information you gathered, write a short monologue from the perspective of the person you interviewed. Focus on capturing their voice, emotions and memories while sharing the heart of their experience.

Congratulations!

You've have dramatized someone's real life experience. Keep listening, keep writing and most importantly, keep telling stories.

PLACES, EVERYONE.

Ford's Theatre Rules of Engagement

We are glad that you are joining us at Ford's Theatre today. This is a welcoming and interactive community. Whether you are here to visit our historic site or to see a show, we invite you to be your authentic self.

At Ford's Theatre:

- We are allowed to be human, in all the ways that make us unique.
- We are allowed to be human together. We encourage you to find moments of respectful connection and engagement with other members of the community.
- We are on common ground. We are all here to enjoy a shared experience and though our reactions and responses may vary, we will remain respectful.
- We are creating a live theatrical experience together; audible reactions and responses are welcome. The actors need you to engage with what you see but not to distract them from their performances.
- We also welcome the use of personal communication devices if they help you to better experience the show, but we encourage you to respect the actors' work and the other audience members around you. Please note that the taking of photographs, video or sound recordings of the performance is not permitted.

Let's create something beautiful together.

Historic Site Visits

A visit to Ford's Theatre traces the story of Abraham Lincoln's presidency, assassination and legacy. Whether for a brief visit or for the full experience, Ford's will deepen your appreciation and understanding of America's 16th president. Admission is free; advance tickets have a convenience fee. The Ford's Theatre campus traditionally includes:

- Museum: Learn about Lincoln's presidency from his inauguration to his arrival at Ford's Theatre the night of April 14, 1865. See artifacts related to his presidency and assassination.
- Theatre: See the recreated historic theatre and learn the key facts of the assassination from National Park Service Rangers.
- Petersen House: Explore Lincoln's final moments in the house where Lincoln died.
- Center for Education and Leadership: See the Aftermath Exhibits exploring what happened following Lincoln's assassination, the hunt for John Wilkes Booth and the lasting impact of Lincoln's legacy.

Our visitation schedule varies. Parts of the campus may not be available at the time of your visit.

Box Office Hours

- When there is an evening performance: 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.
- When there is no evening performance: 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.
- When there is a History on Foot walking tour: 8:30 a.m. until the tour begins.

Groups

Groups (10 or more people) save on mainstage performance tickets, have priority access to the best seats in the house and have flexible payment options. Contact groups@fords.org or (202) 638-2367.

Accessibility

Accessible seating is offered in both the rear orchestra and the balcony sections.

GalaPro closed captioning will be available for all performances starting Thursday, September 10, 2026. Search for GalaPro on the Google Play or Apple Store and download the app.

An audio-enhancement system is available for all performances. Devices are available on a first-come, first-served basis. Please check with an usher.

Audio-described performances of Come From Away are scheduled for Thursday, September 24, 2026 at 7 p.m. and Saturday, October 3, 2026 at 2 p.m.

A Sign-interpreted performance of Come From Away is scheduled for Thursday, October 1, 2026 at 7 p.m.

A sensory-friendly performance of Come From Away is scheduled for Saturday, October 17, 2026 at 2 p.m.
